DOUGLAS STEIN NAMED VICE PRESIDENT AND CONTROLLER OF GDF SUEZ ENERGY RESOURCES

HOUSTON – June 27, 2013 – GDF SUEZ Energy Resources NA, one of the country's largest competitive retail electricity providers to commercial, industrial and institutional customers, announced today that it has named Douglas Stein as its new Vice President and Controller.

Stein's career in energy spans more than a decade and includes a range of finance leadership positions within GDF SUEZ. In his new role, Stein will oversee all financial functions, including accounting, performance reporting, planning, settlements and credit as well as customer billing and account management.

"Douglas has a rare blend of industry knowledge and experience that makes him a great addition – and a great asset – to our business unit," said Sam Henry, President and CEO of GDF SUEZ Energy Resources. "His broad background and well-rounded insight – combined with his solid track record of success at GDF SUEZ – will play a critical role in driving our long-term growth strategy."

While at GDF SUEZ, Stein successfully implemented a range of best practices in processes, staffing and systems that enhanced the efficiency and effectiveness of closing and reporting. Prior to joining GDF SUEZ, he worked as an auditor at PricewaterhouseCoopers.

Stein is a certified public accountant. He earned an undergraduate degree in Business Administration and a master's degree in accounting from Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas.
